

Bullying in Schools and the Japanese Experience for Creating a Better School Climate

The presentation aimed at considering definitions of bullying and the role of educational psychologists in facilitating anti-bullying interventions in schools. See the content at the page Anti-bullying.

Dr. Stefania Dimitrova introduced innovative methods for school socialization in a film, based on her research on the Japanese Experience for educating social skills and fostering good school climate. See the film at the page Better School Climate.

Stefania Dimitrova is Director of the Center for International Research in Education and Culture /CIREC/ - Bulgaria, and President of the Foundation for Cultural Studies Madara-Bulgaria. After obtaining her Ph.D. in Sociology of Culture from Sofia University, she specialized in Oslo, Osaka and Oxford University. She was researcher and lecturer on educational psychology at Nagoya University (2006) and Tsukuba University (2009). As adjunct faculty, she taught Psychology and Social Psychology at the American University in Bulgaria and at Sofia University.